WHO WE ARE

Xenogenesis is a theatre and performance arts-based social enterprise. Through the lens of Afrofuturism we nurture and inspire creative artistry using interactive theatre, dance, music and theatrical techniques.

We introduce theatrical technique that promotes play, creativity and confidence, whilst creating artistic visions that reflect our participants reality and the reality they want for themselves.

WHAT WE OFFER

- We deliver workshops for 5 -18 years old to explore, create and devise new paths to explore possible futures through a Black cultural lens.
- We offer Bespoke workshops specifically for the organisations and take pride in putting together a workshop that fits your needs.

Learning about Afrofuturism was really important because it encouraged us to think about our diversity and to think about the importance of Black culture." - Taylor, Year 6

"I loved that Xenogenesis educated us about Afrofuturism. They made normal games like rock, paper, scissors into acting activities. The whole workshop was one of the best I've ever participated in and all I can now think of is acting! It just shows how much creativity is inside us all!" - Nathan, Year 6

"The storytelling workshop was incredibly inclusive allowing all children to feel able to participate. We had a child's parent come to us and say that their son- who is EAL with little English - had the best day and felt that he had made friends during the workshop. A very valuable experience." -
